Women's Health Research Day is a celebration and promotion of research activities in Women's Health at VCU. The program will include a plenary symposium, poster awards and reception highlighting women's health research by VCU faculty and students. Two $1,000 awards will be given for best overall poster by a junior investigator and to the poster that best demonstrates interdisciplinary investigator collaboration in women's health.

All VCU faculty, residents, students, staff, and community members interested in women's health research are encouraged to attend. Do not miss this opportunity to network with colleagues and potential collaborators. Pre-registration is encouraged, but not required. Onsite registration will be available from 1:00pm to 1:30 pm on the day of the event.
